

Advice for Fundraising during the Pandemic

- If you or anyone volunteering with you has symptoms of Covid-19, please do not attend your event and reschedule when it is safe to do so. Encourage attendees to only attend if they have no symptoms of Covid-19.
- Consider using our risk assessment when planning your event.
- Consider the need for PPE. If you are holding an in-person event, take into consideration the need or relevance of PPE and inform attendees of this before the event takes place.
- Use our printable QR code to encourage digital donations to be made instead of having to collect cash donations. This is a more hygienic way to collect donations and will keep you and your volunteers even safer by limiting contact with multiple people.

Remember: Rescheduling an event is fine! Many event organisers, including RSVP, have had to postpone events due to the pandemic. Your safety is RSVP's biggest priority and while we appreciate your support, your health and wellbeing is so important.
